- (d) THE NAMES OF THE PARTIES TO A JOINT RESEARCH AGREEMENT.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 3/1 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Field.

Field discloses a display system and covers various embodiments including a rear projection unit having a housing/cabinet (Fig. 15 or 21). The front of the cabinet is rectangular for projecting the rectangularly formed raster display, the front having a screen (as shown throughout the embodiments). The front opening includes sides 32 that are curved.

As for claim 3/1, the curves of the opening sides are directed towards the center of the screen, as shown in the embodiments (including the rear projection embodiments in Figs. 15 and 21).
